QUESTIONS:

1. Can this be accomplished entirely remote using electronic communication means (video link, email, phone). This may vary depending on the population being served. In most cases the surveys are on an in-person basis.
2. Is there a certain percentage or number of surveys that need to be administered in person? If so, how many? This will vary depending upon the project.
3. Is this a duration project (vendor will be given task(s) throughout the length of a specific contract), or an objective project (vendor will be engaged to acquire 1000 surveys and then the project is complete). Per the response provided in Addendum 1, projects will vary in scope. Currently we have a small project contacting 36 residents concerning activities in their building. Estimated to be no more than 3 to 5 questions.
4. What contact data do you have for the residents or survey target audience? Property Management has telephone numbers, addresses and some email addresses.
